Excerpt from Transactions of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, Vol. 2: Second Annual Meeting, New York, January 21-23, 1986

Secretary Hart: - The minutes of the previous meeting are all contained in the printed copy of the transactions which has been sent to every member of the society. I therefore hope that the leading of the minutes will be dispensed with.

Mr. William Mackay: - I move, Mr. President, that we do away with the reading of the minutes. (The motion was carried.)

The President then delivered his annual address.

The President: - The next on the programme will be the report of the secretary.

Secretary Hart submitted the following report:

Secretary's report.

The reports which you will receive from your board of managers and council will give you an idea of the progress and in increase in membership of your society during the past year, while the report of your treasurer shows its financial standing.

In most instances the initiatory as regards making application for membership has been taken by the person desirous of becoming a member; while this is especially gratifying, I believe every member should interest himself in placing the advantages of the society in the right light before such workers in our field as would make desirable members.

I believe that the society in electing its council should see that at least a majority of such council are located in one city, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, or New York.

It is necessary that such council should elect a secretary to take charge of all applications, send them to other members of the council, and examine into them carefully before returning them to the general secretary for the final vote; if this suggestion is carried out, I believe the society will soon have knowledge of its beneficent effects.

In the matter of papers to be read at our annual meeting, members have not taken the interest in them that they should. The papers which will be read and discussed at this meeting all came very late, one of them after the first of the year. Technical papers must be carefully edited, tables, data, and formulas accurately set up, and this requires time. One of these papers alone was four days at the printing office before first proofs were received. Your secretary cannot agree to submit printed copies for your consideration ten days in advance of the meeting if this is to continue.
